About Me

Hi, I'm Lazizbek, a passionate front-end developer. My journey in programming began at the age of 15, and since then, I have been on a continuous quest to learn and grow. With a strong focus on turning beautiful designs into functional and intuitive websites, I take pride in my achievements and the diverse set of skills I've acquired along the way. Additionally, I enjoy taking on the challenge of building full-stack web applications using the MERN stack.
